

lush* is a design agency dedicated to helping clients develop their businesses. Lush can assist you in creating successful communication material by executing intelligent design and marketing concepts.

Lush provides a single source of expertise for all your design and communication needs. We support and drive your business strategy by providing services in the following areas: Corporate id, branding, web development, on screen media, graphic design, print communications, internal communications, marketing consultancy and hosting services.

Find out how we could help you...

Whether you're looking for a flyer, leaflet, brochure, website, one-off marketing campaign, the full creation of a brand or even a re-design, then lush can tailor a package to suit your budget. For successful design, marketing and production, call lush today!

design: +44 (0)7525 655305 marketing: +44 (0)7973 966995

www.lushdesign.biz

Affordable design and marketing solutions

On screen media

Animations, digital advertisements, presentations and dvd production.

*Ideal for advertising services in public areas, because on screen imagery and advertising can attract much more attention than a static poster. It also gives one convenient location for displaying multiple advertisements to your target audience.

Web development

Website design, flash animations, streaming video, digital advertisements, content managed sites, contact forms, hosting and email.

* A strong web presence is a vital marketing tool. More than 20 million people are now online, purchasing everything from books to computers to cars. If you do not have a website you could be losing business to your competition. For most of your visitors, your website will be their first point of contact with you or your business. As a result, it is important that your website makes a good first impression. If your website looks amateurish, you create a negative business image! Lush will give you the professional web presence you deserve.

Design and marketing

Magazines, newsletters, brochures, leaflets, postcards, stationery, folders, exhibition stands, image retouching and marketing strategy.

*Projecting a professional image to your customers along with the right message is extremely important. Professional looking marketing and design material will enhance your business profile and attract more customers.

Logos and branding

Corporate id, image and brand rules.

*Your logo conveys that you are credible, trustworthy and helps create instant recognition. Your logo is the element that carries your reputation and will give a strong advantage over your competitors.

